About the Love Promise Please contact Subaru Customer Service or your local Subaru Retailer for further information. There are two ways to connect using your smartphone However, all STARLINK Remote Access features do require using your smartphone or MySubaru.com to access remote services. What is the difference between the SUBARU STARLINK App and MySubaru App It provides handsfree connectivity and entertainment for your next adventure. The SUBARU STARLINK Customer Care Advisor will need a police report number to help your local law enforcement department find the location of your vehicle. Additional phone numbers can also be added. Its similar to a WiFi system for your computer, but with fewer authentication steps. If a phone is not listed, then it has not been tested and compatibility is unknown. You must enter phone book entries using voice commands. Please refer to your phone owners manual for details on adjusting the Bluetooth settings. If a phone is not listed, then it has not been tested and compatibility is unknown. For detailed pairing instructions, please review your phones User Guide. You may want to switch to another audio source until you have an adequate cell data signal. Many have slightly different feature sets and functionality. Refer to the details in your smartphone or device Owners Manual for instructions on how to do this. Other file systems, including NTFS used by Windows, or other types used by variations of Unix are not supported. Single card converters without a driver may work, however compatibility is not guaranteed. Hot swapping is not supported as the memory card must be installed into the reader before connecting the reader to the Media Hub. So, the first song stored on the drive will playback first. The songs will not play back alphabetically, unless you specifically sort them that way on your computer and then copy them to the USB in that same order. The Media Hub will read down through up to 8 levels of subfolders. Songs in excess of 1000 in any single folder will be ignored by the Media Hub. Subfolders in excess of 200 will also be ignored by the Media Hub. Even though files that are not of the supported music type will be ignored, having lots of files and folders can decrease performance. Also, frequent use of a drive can create fragmentation within the file system which is not improved as files are erased. This situation must be dealt with by running a defragmentation program on the USB drive, or by reformatting it. It contains more detailed descriptions and troubleshooting. You should hear the phone ring. When multiple previously paired devices are present, Media Hub will automatically attempt to connect with the device that was most recently paired. I need to see if I can track down some corrections to this list, as there were some errors. This list really bothers me with the way it is laid out. It is quite improved now, but it is still a whole lot of whitespace that isnt necessary. I have an idea of how better to sort it, but I need to play around with it offline before I put it into practice here.
